

Silver Jubilee Celebrations

COVER STORY

Centre for Civil Society was set up in August 1997. In the past 25 years, CCS has carved a niche position for itself in the policy space. We, in our journey, have advocated for choice, accountability and prosperity through market based solutions. This milestone was celebrated with our stakeholders, alumni, board and team members in Delhi (06 Aug) and Bangalore (10 Aug).

Interacting with budget private school teachers

Project Bolo English

For the academic year 2022-23, 300 schools including both budget private schools and semi-government schools registered with our program. We started working with learning centres for out-of-school children in Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and New Delhi. The team also completed teacher training for ~4000 teachers who received spoken English application skills.

Forty-Three Years of Indian Independence

Forty-Three Years of Indian Independence by Nani Palkhivala

As India embarks on its 76th year of independence, we revisit the works of Indian liberals who have contributed to the nation's democratic legacy. Among such works was a 1990 address by Indian jurist and liberal economist Nani Palkhivala. The address discussed India's advantages and challenges, status of state control, need for liberalisation, and the future of the democratic nation.
